

There are no translations available.

I used to teach a lot, too much in my view, but my young team has now mostly taken over. At the undergraduate level I teach a basic course for master students of statistics, and at the graduate level I teach students of the doctoral programmes in statistics and biomedicine at the University of Ljubljana.

See here for detailed information on our teaching programmes